From the General Quarters at Vilshoven in Bavaria, the 19th of May, 1742.

ON the 18th our Army marched from the Cloyſter of Allerſpatch to Vilſhoven, where the General Quarters are at preſent, and all the Regiments had Orders to encamp near Platling, the Right Wing being poſted very near that City, and the Left extending itſelf as far as Oſterhoven. At the ſame Time a Bridge of Boats was laid over the Danube, and a Party of Huſſars and Waraſdins were ordered to encamp on the other Side of that River. In the Afternoon Count Khevenhuller made a Tour to the Camp, and at the ſame Time reviewed the Troops which were put under Arms. Part of the Enemy's Army is at Platling and Part at Deckendorff on the other Side of the Danube; theſe laſt fire continually from their Cannon on our Camp, but without any Effect. The 20th two Regiments of Foot, which were at Paſſau, came to our Camp. The 21ſt the Enemy appeared more diſpoſed to attack us than the Evening before; but having diſcovered ſome Thouſands of our Huſſars and Waraſdins encamp'd not far from us, they immediately retired. The 22d our Huſſars attack'd the Enemy's Van Guard, and drove them from their Poſts; but a ſtrong Detachment of the Enemy obliged them to retire. There are 6000 of the Enemy's Troops in the Caſtle of Graſinaw, about ſix Hours from Paſſau: They are entrenching themſelves there, and it is ſaid, they ſtill expect other Troops, with which they deſign to beſiege the Cittadel of Paſſau.

Vienna, May 26. There is no very certain Advices of the Pruſſians, the moſt probable Opinion is, that they are cantoned between Kuttenberg and Kolin. Three Regiments of Pruſſian Cavalry have been ordered out of Upper Sileſia, one of which, belonging to Margrave Frederick having been attacked by a Regiment of Huſſars, near Ratibor, had above 200 killed and as many taken Priſoners, with 250 Horſes, three Silver Trumpets and two Standards.

Copenhagen, June 2. The Court returned hither two Days ago, but leaves this Place again this Afternoon to ſettle at Hirſcholm.

Dreſden, June 3. We hear from Breſlau, that the Hungarians grow ſtronger in Sileſia, and have made a conſiderable Booty of Cattle, which the Pruſſians had bought in Poland. The King of Pruſſia remains in his Camp, and Prince Charles is making ſeveral Motions with his Army about Haber, but with what Deſign is not known.

Hambourg, June 5. M. Buys arrived laſt Night, to reſide here on the Part of the States General. We hear from Moſcow, that the ſame Honours which were ſhewn to Peter the Second when the Empreſs Catharine was crowned, have been obſerved with Regard to the young Duke of Holſtein, at the Coronation of the preſent Empreſs.
